Dear Customer

Unwin Safety Systems are very pleased to introduce Puwertec Ltd, the first independent company to provide professional auditing of vehicle safety equipment.

Unwin Safety Systems strongly believe that regular servicing and maintenance of safety systems combined with training in the use of these equipments, is of paramount importance to transport providers, their staff, their customers and the industry as a whole.

To that effect, Puwertec is offering an invaluable after care service, which has been missing for a considerable time and will benefit the industry in the long term.

Whilst a close relationship exists between our two companies, it must be stressed that Puwertec Ltd is an independent organisation, that takes full ownership and responsibility for all the information, advice and services they provide to customers.

So if you wish to bring safety to the heart of your business, contact Puwertec Ltd for an independent and expert audit of all your passenger and wheelchair restraint systems.

Yours faithfully
